The Old Guy

street // theatre

Who said old people can't have fun?

In his solo show, THE OLD GUY, Rob Lok introduces a mischievous octogenarian that has aged quite gracefully with a steady diet of cartoons and RED BULL energy drinks.

With a daring mix of slapstick stunts and dynamic comedy, this quirky old fool plays with his eccentric collection of toys and rediscovers his youth with each new find.

Never out to shame people, THE OLD GUY comically interacts with his audience, often inviting them to help him drive the show forward.
